American Culture and English (ACE)

Digital Storytelling

The University of Wisconsin–Madison is a top-ranked university known for its academics, influential research and faculty, beautiful lakeside setting and global network of alumni. It’s also a welcoming atmosphere for international students.

The American Culture and English (ACE) Program is for international high school students who want exceptional instruction in the classroom and an engaging experience outside of class.

In the ACE Digital Storytelling virtual program, students will produce a portfolio of videos with compelling narratives and visuals to demonstrate their English storytelling skills while learning from digital media faculty and experts at UW-Madison.

July 12 - 30, 2021
